The searcity of money in circulation. stagnation in business, enforced idle, ness, debts, high taxes, fallen prices and fluancial fallures that everywhere barass and distress the people, are the direct result of mistaken and vibious legislation by the state and the nation; legislation by the state and the nation; and the only remedy of relief is, to repeal the bad laws and substitute just laws instead, and to this end we recommend that the people come together, ir respective of previous political party af fillations, in every precinct and warnin the state and form a people's party. organization, and the only condition of membership, an avowed willingness to support the Omaha platform,

The question immediately arises whether enough voters will leave the two old partles to form a third party. If not, all this new third party machinery will have been in vain and the People's party will be ushered into the limbo of some ferty third-party predecessors that have passed away in the past forty years. But there is no way to test this but to test it, and that is what the People's party propose to do in Oregon. If all the Prohibition, Labor, Greenback, Alliance and Grange voters who have heretofore thrown off on the Republican and Democratic parties will unite with the aggressive new People's party organization, there will be a strong nucleus for a new party.
Add to this the fact that the Democratic party is pretty badly split on finance and there is an outlook for an anti-Cleveland wing breaking off bodily, and the outlook for the Populist is a the water is absorbed, and then, oh, ticket agent, or write bright one in Oregon, if indeed it does not absorb the whole Democratic machins, rank and file, tiger and all The coming contest for political sup- weave, and your canneries will not remacy in Oregon will be watched with

THE CLEARING HOUSE.

The fall of the Capital National bank of Indianapolis was due to the fact that it was not at that time a member of the trust or clearing house. The same assistance as was extended to the Indianapolis National bank given to the Capital National would have saved it from closing its doors. In the one case it was the power of the clearing house trust to destroy a solvent competitor. them at the time to be criminally corrupt and hopelessly bankrupt.

What this clearing house conspiracy these two banks it has done and intends to the giver. to do in its relations with every business man and every business interest, It is a common remark that if men do so and so their business will be destroyed. The association of banks known as the clearing nouse has committees for its several purposes. Through its system or espionage it is able to rival the inquisition of Torquemada. The commercial agencies of Dun and Bradstreet are its servants. The detectives of Pinkerton and the police are its ready tools. The records of loans, mortgages and taxes are always open to inspection. The political, social and religious standing of every man who asks for a loan of money is subject to their investigation and may become a factor in the result. - Noncon-

COUNTY COURT PROCEEDINGS.

The Statesman is waking up to the fact that the county court proceedings should be published. The JOURNAL has always con.ended for the enforcement of this law which for two years or more, ever since it was enacted has not been enforced in this county as in most counties of the state.

In as large a county as this it would be money saved to the county and the people at each session ten times the putting in their crops and .heir "whoa cost of enforcing the law to have the and get up" can be heard from early occeedings published. The people morn till late at night. have no other means of getting at the actions of court but by this law. The county court is the only body of men who do not settle with the people or place and is going to put it out to small I nder an account of themselves.

Electric Launches For Vienna.

No longer, if the plans of an Italian undicate are carried out, will the gonolier in his gay costume send his long black boat sweeping along the Grand canal and under the Bridge of Sighs. In his place an American engineer, in a natty suit of blue with brass buttons, will simply press the button, and elecricity will do the rest.

The translation of the poetry of Vence into modern prose is one result of the Columbian exposition. Yesterday electric launch No. 36, which has been plying on the lagoons and grand basins since the fair opened, was taken to the south pond and hauled up out of the water. There it was turned over to an express company, which had contracted to deliver the boat safe and sound on the Grand canal in Venice within the next month. It has been purchased by a company in which several members of the royal Italian commission are interested, and will be sent ahead to prepare the way for a big fleet of electric boats which are to follow when the fair is over.-Chicago Tribune.

A New Trolley Car Brake.

A Rochester man has devised a plan by which a trolley street car can be stopped almost instantaneously, or within a space of three feet, while the car is going at full speed. His device is operated by a lever in the motorman's cab. It is, generally speaking, a steel shoe upon which the rear wheels of the car ride, the under side of which is corrugated so as to produce great friction upon the rails of the track. On the top of the shoe is an arrangement which, as soon as the wheel rises upon the shoe, clamps the outer rim of the wheel and at the same time grasps the inner edge of the rail. The simple weight of the car crowds down the shoe upon the rail and at the same time clamps together, as in a vi-e, the wheel and the rail, and all this by a single movement on the part of the motorman.-Electricity.

Maine Bull Throwers. Lawyer Bunker of Ellsworth, Me., recently had an unpremeditated contest with an angry bull on the Hancock county fair grounds at that place. He seized the angry beast by the horns, and after an exciting tussle actually succeeded in downing the bull. Since then the young farmers of the county have been practising at this hazardous wrestling, and most any average sized man will now boast of his ability to upset any bull in the county. Competitive challenges have been the natural outcome, and Bucksport has just issued a defiance to Ellsworth to match its star against any "rarsler" (wrestler) in the latter place, "horse holt, best two out of three bulls."—Lewiston Journal.
